MAYOR AFTER BUSINESS

Following the announcement yesterday that the Norfolk and Western Railway Company had decided to order at once thirty-seven new locomotives, Mayor Ainslie yesterday afternoon sent to President L. E. Johnson, the following telegram:

President N. & W. R. Co.,
Roanoke, Va.

I respectfully and earnestly urge you to stipulate that the thirty-seven locomotives you recently ordered from the American Locomotive Company be built at the Richmond branch. The high character of the work of the Richmond plant, its close proximity to your yard and the fact that it is a home institution should all commend it to your choice and entitle it to the patronage of Virginia railroads.

GEORGE AINSLIE, Mayor.

"KISSING PASTOR" IS ADMONISHED

Convicted of Unministerial Conduct, but Acquitted of Violation of Moral Code.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, April 7.—The Rev. Jacob Embury, pastor of the Washington Heights M. E. Church, was convicted late today of the charge of "unministerial conduct" brought against him by women members of his congregation. The ecclesiastical court of fifteen acquitted him of the charges involving "sinful temper" and "violations of the moral code."

The "kissing pastor" was permitted to retain his pastorate, but was publicly admonished.

Dr. Price appeared with his son, Carl E. Price, and waited tremblingly for the verdict. Although he made a brave effort to conceal his emotion, his forehead was beaded with perspiration. When Bishop Wilson called for the report of the "select committee" he said:

"Whatever your sentiments, I shall ask that you manifest no expression of approval or disapproval. According to the church law, the finding of the committee is the finding of the conference."

Dr. Frank L. Wilson read the findings of the committee.

Bishop Wilson then announced his appointments for the following year, and the name of "J. E. Price" was read as re-assigned to the Washington Heights M. E. Church.

When he had completely recovered his composure, to many of the twenty-five men and women who had been "kissed," Dr. Price said he had been "vindicated." Later his son gave out a statement, in which he said that his father was convicted upon one act of imprudence only, "which has not appeared in any of the newspapers."

This was vigorously denied by Dr. Wilson and two other members of the court, who said:

"The findings of the court were based upon the cumulative testimony of the witnesses. Dr. Price admitted kissing a married woman. This woman was in great distress of mind at that time, and Dr. Price said he kissed her just as he would a child after christening—without passion."

RESINOL
(Unguentum Resinol)
TRADE MARK
Registered U. S. Pat. Office.

Antipruritic and Local Anesthetic. Effectually used in all forms of Inflammation, Eruption and Irritation of the Skin.

PREPARED ONLY BY
Resinol Chemical Co.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

Beware of ointments offered as "just as good as Resinol"

If you have any skin trouble, you want Resinol. You want it because you have known about it for years, because your friends and neighbors have used it successfully, and because you know that physicians have prescribed it for nineteen years in the treatment of eczema, rashes, ringworm, pimples and other distressing eruptions.

You do not want a "substitute" or something that a dealer tells you is "just as good as Resinol." You do not want it because you know nothing of its value. It has nobody's endorsement and for all you can tell it never did anyone any good at all. If a dealer tries to force a "substitute" on you, it is for a very good reason of his own—read about it in the next column.

Most druggists sell Resinol gladly. Small jar 50c, large jar $1; Resinol Soap 25c per cake. For trial size free, write to Dept. 48-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

This is why they do it. When a clerk tries to make you take a "substitute" for Resinol, or any other standard article, don't blame him, blame his employer. The clerk probably would rather sell you the genuine Resinol, because he knows even better than you that doctors prescribe it and that it does heal skin troubles. Also, it is easier to give you what you want than to argue you into buying something you DON'T want.

But because some cheaply-made imitation pays a few cents more profit, an unscrupulous dealer here and there gives his clerks a commission if they can force you to buy instead of Resinol. He doesn't look like the dealer who looks like a doctor, and he doesn't care, as long as he gets your money. How do you feel about it? Almost every town has its "substituter," look out for him.
